Dear Researchers,

The Scientific and Technological Research Council of Turkey (TÜBİTAK) has been contributing since its establishment to the development of a research culture in a wide range of target groups from primary school level to post-doctoral level through project, scholarship, and competition programs, with the purpose of fulfilling a pioneering role in the field of science and technology. Besides these programs, TÜBİTAK publishes 11 academic journals to which distinguished researchers from any country can submit articles. TÜBİTAK aims to contribute to the field of science and technology at global level and to increase social welfare through these academic journals. In line with these goals, the editorial board and our journal staff are working hard to ensure that your articles can be quickly processed in a very sensitive way. Our journals are abstracted and indexed by many important indexes including SCI-E. Since TÜBİTAK is funding these journals, submission and access to these journals are completely free. We will be honoured to publish your valuable articles that will contribute to scientific advancement.
